

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface	I
Introduction	1
PART 1: THE BASES OF EFFECTIVE RURAL DEVELOPMENT	7
Visions of Control	7
The First Principle: Social Participation as a Process	10
The Second Principle: Partnership Development for Rural Development	13
Propositions
Proposition 1: Flexibility and Diversity	15
Proposition 2: Human Resource and Manpower Development	16
Proposition 3: Two-Way Development	17
Proposition 4: Complementary Roles and Responsibilities	24
Proposition 5: Knowing the People	27
PART 2: THE PRACTICAL CHALLENGES RURAL HEALTH DEVELOPMENT
Meeting Rural Health Development Challenges: Early Experiences of a Rural Doctor	32
Mobilizing People and Finances	34
Manpower Development	35
Programme and Communication Development	37
Natural and Unexpected Leaders	38
Common Understanding	40
Meeting Rural Health Development Challenges: Current Experiences as a Community Member	43
Volunteer Village Health Workers in Thailand: Progress, Problems and Prospects	43
The Elderly as Potential Health Education Leaders	45
The Aging Society of Muang Phon: A Health Case Study	47
Conclusion	57
Bibliography	68

LIST OF FIGURES

	Page
Figure 1: Integrated Human Resources Development	18
Figure 2: Flow of Typical "Top-Down" Planning Process	20
Figure 3: Flow of Typical "Bottom-Up" Planning Process	21
Figure 4: Flow of Integrated Planning Process	22
Figure 5: An Ecological Model of Rural Development	33