

CONTENTS

Preface	v
1. The employment problem	1
Unemployment or poverty?	2
The Colombia report	5
Educated unemployment	7
The question of responsibility	11
2. Lessons from the economics of education	15
The optimum shape of the educational pyramid	15
The vocational school fallacy	21
Private and social costs of education	23
Cost-effectiveness analysis	24
Conclusion	25
3. The puzzling economic value of education	27
The economic explanation	28
The sociological explanation	33
The psychological explanation	35
A synthesis?	38
4. Traditional solutions	41
Quantitative controls	41
Shifting the costs to parents	43
Ruralisation of curricula	46
Vocationalisation of curricula	51
Training for self-employment	53
Adult literacy campaigns	55
Out-of-school education	57
5. Radical solutions	61
Intervention in the labour market	61
Abolishing examinations	66
Selection by quotas	71
Recurrent education	72
Deschooling	76
6. What can be done?	79
The quantitators versus the qualitors	79
Research and experimentation	82
A guide to shibboleths	84
A transitory problem?	88