

CONTENTS

Preface	v
Acknowledgements	xiii
About the author	xv
Introduction	1
Part I	Labour inspection: Background, evolution and context	7
1	The foundations	9
1.1	Historical origins	9
1.2	Fundamental principles	10
1.3	Sources of authority	13
1.4	Tripartism	16
2	The framework	19
2.1	The socio-economic context	19
2.2	The political framework	21
2.3	The legal basis	22
2.4	The administrative environment	24
3	The mission of labour inspection	27
3.1	The trend towards mission statements	27
3.2	The role and scope of labour inspection	29
3.3	Social promotion, social policing	33
3.4	Prevention	34
4	A systems overview	37
4.1	General observations	37
4.2	Conventional patterns	38
4.3	A functional approach	41
4.4	Towards functional integration	42
5	The client system	45
5.1	Who are the clients?	45
5.2	Workers	46
5.3	Employers	47
5.4	Other government services	48
5.5	The wider client system	50
		vii

6	Challenges facing labour inspection	53
6.1	Introduction	53
6.2	New technologies	54
6.3	New risks in the world of work	57
6.4	Growing regulatory volume and complexity	58
6.5	Labour market fragmentation	59
6.6	The weakness of traditional partners	60
6.7	Globalization	62
7	Response to the challenges	65
7.1	The issues	65
7.2	The changing role of the State	66
7.3	Coping with new technology	68
7.4	New regulatory approaches	70
7.5	Changes in management	72
7.6	New strategic partnerships	74
Part II	Inspection systems: Policy	77
8	Sources of policy reference	79
8.1	Introduction	79
8.2	International labour Conventions	79
8.3	International labour Recommendations	81
8.4	Other supranational norms	82
8.5	Other sources	83
9	The contribution to policy formulation	85
9.1	Some general considerations	85
9.2	The design process	86
9.3	Policy content	87
9.4	Labour inspection policy	89
10	New policy orientations	91
10.1	Monitoring social relations	91
10.2	Sectoral policies	93
10.3	Employment inspection	93
10.4	Small and medium-sized enterprises	94
11	Enforcement policies	95
11.1	Rationale and needs	95
11.2	Basic principles	96
11.3	Sanctions	98
11.4	Balancing advisory and enforcement approaches	100
11.5	Procedural issues	103
12	Internal policy issues	105
12.1	Systems management policies	105
12.2	Organization development policies	107
12.3	Recruitment	109
12.4	Training policies	109
12.5	Initial training	111
12.6	Post-probationary and in-service training	112
12.7	Information management policies	112

13	Putting policies into effect	117
13.1	Planning and programming of inspections	117
13.2	Style of inspection	117
13.3	Discretion	118
13.4	Procedures for influencing manufacturers, suppliers and importers	118
13.5	Ensuring equity and consistency	118
13.6	Responsibility for cooperation with other authorities and bodies	118
13.7	Handling the media	119
13.8	Monitoring quality	119
14	Inspection policies and prevention economics	121
14.1	The issues	121
14.2	The role of labour inspection in prevention economics	124
14.3	Selected case studies	130
Part III	Inspection systems: Organization and management	135
15	Labour inspection and tripartism	137
15.1	General observations	137
15.2	Collaboration within the enterprise	138
15.3	Collaboration at sectoral, regional and national levels	139
15.4	Membership of advisory and decision-making bodies	140
16	Structural aspects of organization	141
16.1	Labour inspection as a government department	141
16.2	Tripartite systems management	143
16.3	The need for integrated systems	145
16.4	The case of federal states	151
17	The organizational framework	153
17.1	Cooperation within component services	153
17.2	Cooperation with other bodies	154
17.3	Specialization of inspectors	159
17.4	Workers' cooperation in inspection functions	162
18	Reporting policies and procedures	165
18.1	Standardization	165
18.2	Individual inspection reports	167
18.3	Annual reports	170
18.4	Reports to the ILO	175
19	Evaluating impact and performance	177
19.1	Introduction	177
19.2	Evaluating the impact externally	178
19.3	Evaluating the performance internally	180
19.4	Evaluation: How, by whom and when?	182
20	Information, publication and documentation services	185
20.1	General observations	185
20.2	Different types of organization	186
20.3	IPDS outside labour inspection	186
20.4	Many players, vague coordination	187
20.5	Competition with other functions	187
20.6	A strong role for IPDS	188

21	Labour inspection and occupational safety and health management systems standards	191
21.1	Introduction	191
21.2	The analogy with quality and environmental management	192
21.3	Recent developments	194
21.4	Examples of OSHMS standards at work	197
21.5	Implications of OSHMS standards for inspection	205
21.6	The relevance of OSHMS standards to small enterprises	208
21.7	Implications for the inspectorate's management	209
Part IV	Labour inspection: Sectoral aspects	211
22	Labour inspection and child labour	213
22.1	The scope and nature of the problem	213
22.2	Inhibitions to effective labour inspection of child labour	215
22.3	The authority of labour inspectors	218
22.4	Managing the inspection of child labour	221
22.5	Dealing with particular inspection problems	224
22.6	Enforcing compliance and applying sanctions	225
23	Labour inspection and small and medium-sized enterprises	227
23.1	Justification for a special approach	227
23.2	Priorities for the future	230
23.3	Six possible initiatives	232
23.4	Lessons to be learned	241
24	Labour inspection in agriculture	243
24.1	A special challenge for inspectorates	243
24.2	Hazards in agriculture	246
24.3	Problems facing labour inspectors in agriculture	248
24.4	Strategies for improvement	249
24.5	Clear enforcement and promotional policies	251
24.6	Training and supporting inspectors	255
25	Labour inspection in the non-commercial services sector	257
25.1	Introduction	257
25.2	Risks and special considerations	257
25.3	Who inspects the labour inspectorate?	261
25.4	The process of inspection in the non-commercial sector	262
25.5	Employers and trade unions in the non-commercial sector	265
25.6	The need for action	266
26	Labour inspection in the construction industry	269
26.1	The problems presented by the construction industry	269
26.2	Special international labour standards	275
26.3	Labour inspection systems	280
26.4	New legislative strategies	283
26.5	Inspection, enforcement and persuasion	285
27	Labour inspection and major hazards prevention	289
27.1	Special considerations	289
27.2	Key elements of major hazard control	292
27.3	The inspectorate's response to the safety report	294
27.4	Other inspectorate responsibilities	297

Contents

28	Labour inspection and "new hazards"	299
28.1	Dimensions of the problem	299
28.2	Stress	302
28.3	Aggression and violence	304
28.4	Sexual harassment	307
28.5	Conclusions	310
	Annex I Major international labour standards on labour inspection	313
	Bibliography	339
	Index	347